Jurisdictions in England (cont'd)

- ³ Divisions (some counties had special land divisions that were unique to only those counties)
 - Kent - Lathe of Aylesford, Lathe of St. Augustine, Lathe of Scray, Lathe of Shepway and Lathe of Sutton
 - Lincolnshire - Divided into three historic Parts: Parts of Holland, Parts of Kesteven and Parts of Lindsey
 - Middlesex - Tower Hamlets
 - Sussex - Rape of Arundel, Rape of Bramber, Rape of Chichester, Rape of Hastings, Rape of Lewes and Rape of Pevensey
 - Yorkshire - The Ridings were established as geographical terms: East Riding, North Riding and West Riding
- ⁴ A land division, similar to a hundred, but used in shires that were in the area of the former Danelaw - parts of northern and central England once controlled by the Danes and, later, Norwegians, where Scandinavian laws, customs and language prevailed.
- ⁵ The 15 Danelaw Shires were: Leicester, York, Nottingham, Derby, Lincoln, Essex, Cambridge, Suffolk, Norfolk, Northampton, Huntingdon, Bedford, Hertford, Middlesex and Buckingham.
- ⁶ The two ecclesiastical provinces are: Province of Canterbury and Province of York. The Archbishop of Canterbury is the senior of the two and is also the Primate of the Church of England.
